KNOWING FULL WELL

... that I am placing myself in a position for widespread criticism in certain circles, I am making a public suggestion to Johnnie Morales that he withdraw as a candidate for the Hondo Independent School Board.

I believe that such a move by Mr. Morales would benefit the school system, the city of Hondo and himself.

In asking such a recommendation, I am not judging his innocence or guilt on the two separate counts of possession and sale of marihuana pending against him in District Court. The Court itself will do that in due time.

However, I am expressing a personal opinion that I don't believe this is the time to seek the position of trustee on the school board which has jurisdiction over the lives of hundreds of young people. When and if the indictments are proved untrue would be the appropriate time for him to seek such a position of responsibility.

During the meantime I firmly believe Mr. Morales would be doing a great service by publically announcing he is no longer a candidate for the school board.

ABSENTEE VOTING

... began Monday (March 13) and the final day for personally casting an absentee ballot in both the school and city elections is March 28.

That is also the last day an application can be mailed out, with the votes having to be in the superintendent's office or the city office no later than April 1.

Absentee voting takes on added emphasis this year since the elections fall on the Easter weekend and many persons might be planning a visit out-of-town.

So, if this shoe fits you, be sure you get by the superintendent's office to vote in the school election or by the city office to cast your ballot in the council election.

CHARLES W. BARROW

... Chief Justice, Court of Civil Appeals, visited in Hondo Monday, and while he was in our office, we held a review of mutual friends in Refugio where I first met Judge Barrow in 1962 when he ran his first race for the present office. He now has 32 counties and says it "takes just a little bit of doing" to get around them.

PRETTY BUTTONS

... have been ordered for non-mustache growers. These buttons will be white with royal blue printing saying "See You Museum Day." Several, oh, really more than several, men have already said, "Sure, I'll take a button for $1 rather than grow a mustache."

So everyone who doesn't have a mustache will have the opportunity to publicize Museum Day by purchasing one of these buttons.

But... there are others who are growing mustaches, although the list of new ones keeps getting smaller and smaller. Newest we have seen or heard of include: Ben Rodriguez of D'Hanis, Monico Hernandez and Gene Harrison.

BISHOP FULTON SHEEN

... likes the postcards on Hondo's famous sign. And Father George Stuebben of Hondo's St. John's Church has a letter to prove it.

It seems that on a recent trip to San Antonio Bishop Sheen was introduced to Father Stuebben, or was in conversation with him

Nelson Bippert dies Wednesday

Nelson Bippert, 34, a native of Medina County and head football coach at Hondo High School for the past three years, passed away early Wednesday morning in Medina Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Services are scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday, March 17, in the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Hondo with the Rev. A. M. Hannemann officiating. Interment will be in the Zion Lutheran Cemetery in Castroville.

Nelson Bippert was born in San Antonio on September 17, 1937 and grew up in Rio Medina. He attended and graduated from Castroville High School (now Medina Valley High School) and participated in all sports while in high school. He graduated from the University of Texas at Austin where he played baseball.

Graduating in mid-year, he went to Pearsall in January 1961 as assistant coach. That fall he went to Cotulla as assistant football coach and head basketball coach. In 1964 Bippert went to Holmes High School in San Antonio as assistant.

Coach Bippert came to Hondo in 1969 and took the helm of Owl football destiny. His Owls presented him a District AA title twice out of three years and in 1970 they tied with Carrizo Springs as co-champions. In 1969 the Owls won the Regional title and in 1971 they won the Quarter Finals title.

During his three-year tenure as head coach, Bippert's teams won 29 games, lost 7 and tied one. In addition to coaching football, he taught related math and physical education.

He was married to the former Gaye Griggs of Castroville and the two had a son, Monte, and a daughter, Brenda. Survivors include his wife; his children; his mother, Mrs. Martha Bippert of Castroville; five brothers, Melvin, Clarence, Jr., Tom, Bill and Bob Bippert; and numerous other relatives.

Harold Chilton

 Trickle irrigation talk set ***

Harold Chilton, agricultural representative for Central Power and Light Co. in Uvalde will discuss trickle irrigation next Tuesday night, March 21, at the regular monthly membership meeting of the Hondo Chapter of Young Farmers.

A demonstration of pecan tree budding and grafting will be presented by Medina County Agent Glenn Bragg at this meeting which will be held at 8 p.m. at the Vocational Agriculture building at Hondo High School.

All interested persons are invited to hear this program. Prior to the program, a beef stew supper will be served at 7:30 for all Young Farmer members and guests. George Gooding, Hondo Chapter vice-president, is in charge of the meal and arrangements.

Chilton is a native of Central Texas and is a 1965 graduate of Texas A&M University. As a CP&L representative in the Winter Garden District, he works with South Texas towns in their community and industrial development efforts to help them prepare for industrial prospect. He is married and has twin sons.

Trickle or drip irrigation is the application of water on a regular basis directly to the plant's root zone. This is accomplished by a system of small plastic pipes going down each row of trees or vegetables with either holes or emitters spaced as needed. The sudden increase in use of trickle irrigation in recent years results mainly from the availability of low cost plastic pipe and to water shortages in some areas.

Water savings of 50 to 90 percent are reported and wells pumping less than 10 gallons per minute can be utilized. It is estimated that a small 2 to 4 horsepower pump will supply a uniform volume of water to a 30 to 40 acre system.

A short business meeting will be held following the program and nominations for the Hondo Chapter's Outstanding Young Farmer will be accepted. Plans will again be made for a weekend fishing trip to the gulf coast for Young Farmer members which had been postponed at an earlier meeting until warmer weather. Participation in the Hondo Museum Day on May 6 will also be discussed.

AACOG COMMITTEE WILL DECIDE ON COURSE TO TAKE ON HOUSING TUESDAY NIGHT, MARCH 21 IN HONDO MUNICIPAL BUILDING

 Industrial exhibits set ***

Letters have been mailed to local industries seeking displays for Texas Industry Week in Hondo April 3-8, with four exhibits already assured.

Promising exhibits so far have been Medina Agriculture Products, Gary Aircraft Corp., Universal-Rundle and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Exhibition of displays will be in the west side of the new Bluebonnet Cleaners on 17th Street across from the Post Office. They will go on display Tuesday, April 4 and remain through Saturday, April 8, with the exhibit being open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily with the exception of Thursday when it will stay open until 9 p.m.

Two school assemblies have been arranged by Supt.

Nelson Bippert

High School Band members are hoping for another Sweepstakes Award this year after receiving a first division in marching last fall. Thirty-three bands are entered in the two-day contest which is open to the public.

Kenneth Flory, Hondo Superintendent, serves as Executive Chairman for Region XI and Billy Harrell, Hondo Band Director serves as Executive Secretary.

School voting begins in D'Hanis

Mrs. Lawrence Rothe and Mrs. Esther Kile are clerks for absentee voting and may be located at the high school office.

The D'Hanis school election will be held April 1 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the high school. Lawrence Rothe will serve as Election Judge and clerks will be David Gallegos and Pat McGraw.

A. W. Stewart, President and owner of Gary Aircraft Corporation announced at the Hondo City Council meeting March 14, 1972, that the company plans to make substantial additional investments in facilities and equipment at the Hondo Municipal Airport.

A new air conditioned electronics building has just been erected and completed at a cost for building and electronic equipment of more than $85,000. Federal Aviation Administration approval as a Class 1, 2, and 3 Aircraft Radio, Radar, and Pulse equipment overhaul agency has been received, and the company can now repair, overhaul, and install all types of aircraft electronic equipment. Richard Stickney is in charge of the new electronics operation.

Fuse fizzles to failure on Pitre suit

The fuse on Joe Pitre's Federal District Court suit against County Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder, the City of Hondo City Councilmen, City Manager Fritz Leinweber and Police Chief Jerry Williamson, fizzled to failure this week when his attorney filed a stipulation for dismissal.

This stipulation for dismissal, admits that Pitre and his attorney Pete Torres Jr. had no real cause for the action, alleged last July when Pitre filed the suit in United District Court Western District of Texas San Antonio Division.

It stated in part: "... came the attorney for the plaintiff and the attorneys for the defendants and announced that the plaintiff did not wish to pursue this cause of action at this time, and the plaintiff and defendants have entered into a stipulation of dismissal without prejudice to the plaintiff's cause of action against the defendants and any other person, firm, or corporation."

This action came about after District Judge John H. Wood Jr. issued a "show cause" order to all concerned.

Attorney Fred Semaan, representing Sheriff Hitzfelder, said, according to Paul Thompson March 14, 1972: "Pete Torres told me weeks and weeks ago he would drop the case, since he had nothing to go on. But then his client, Pitre, filed against Sheriff Hitzfelder in Medina County, and Pete dragged his feet. I guess he hoped the suit and all its bad-mouthing of Hitzfelder would hang fire till after the election."

But this week Torres "conceded they had no case and moved for dismissal." In that suit Pitre sought re-instatement without loss of pay, damages of $100,000 and adjudgment declaring unconstitutional the "custom and procedures" used by the City of Hondo to dismiss employees.

The clincher in the bomb-shell thrown by Pitre was his contention "that Hondo and Medina County Officials had him fired to prevent his giving Mexican-American citizens of Hondo 'equal protection of the law'."

His suit also charged "that Hitzfelder has controlled through his influence as sheriff the political climate in the City of Hondo and the County of Medina for several years."

Letters from the mailbox

Dear Mr. Lawrence,

I am writing in regard to the "unenforceable law" in Hondo, better known as the "leash law" mentioned in your column several weeks ago.

That law would be enforceable--

IF all owners of dogs in Hondo were required to have their dogs licensed and given a full series of shots to obtain such a license--

IF a stiff fine were to be charged the owner each time his dog was picked up, say, $10 plus room and board--

IF dogs which were picked up and not claimed within a set number of days were to be given to responsible owners or put to sleep--

IF dogs that were picked up more than a certain number of times a year, say, 5, were put to sleep--

IF the "dog detention department" or whatever were to REALLY get on the ball around here, at least more so than they have been--

AND Hondo would have very few loose dogs in the city limits, quieter nights and cleaner yards, possible more money in the city pocket, no more unenforceable dog laws, and probably a large number of rabid citizens who would need a small refresher course in "freedom."

That course being: your freedom and rights as an individual go only so far as the next guy's; the minute you step on his rights, yours end.

Translation: The minute your dog steps in my yard--you stepped on my rights, and YOU broke the law.

(name withheld by request)

Editor, Hondo Anvil Herald:

I would like Joe Pitt to make a Public statement in the Anvil Herald as to what his 17 years Law Enforcement experience was. (1) Where he served? (2) How long at each agency? (3) Why he left each agency?

Thank You

Hondo, Texas
March 8, 1972

Dear Sir:

Due to the many fatal and crippling train-automobile accidents in our town of Hondo, Texas, I feel it necessary to request consideration for preventive safety legislation that could help save lives all over the United States.

I would like to recommend the following to be considered or improved:

Each individual engine be painted a bright color, one that would stand out at night yet be readily seen in daylight hours.

Each engine have the recognized railroad crossing emblem, size to be determined by need, painted on the front with fluorescent paint.

Each engine to be well lighted on the outside to be more readily seen at night or when visibility is poor.

Each engine to be equipped with a minimum of 3 red rotating lights similar to those used on police cars, fire trucks, etc; one to be positioned at each side of the front with the other being somewhere near front center.

Each passenger car, freight car, etc. to have a 12 inch fluorescent stripe painted full length at a conspicuous level where automobile head lights will reflect the danger of a passing or parked train when the engine is not in view.

Hondo is on a main East-West line of the Southern Pacific railroad and our City Council has requested crossing devices such as blinker lights, drop gates, etc. These requests are acknowledged by Southern Pacific officials but due to excessive cost are rejected apparently feeling this cost should not belong to the railroad.

Hondo has 10 crossings within the City limits and another just a few yards away on State Route 173. I am talking about a 2.8 mile stretch of railroad track. I am not suggesting that street crossing devices be abandoned but hope additional train safety can be initiated.

The speed limit for trains through Hondo has been 45 miles per hour. After the last death City Council passed a 30 mile per hour ordinance. Railroad officials reacted immediately by requesting a hearing with City Council before the ordinance be made official. About 5 years ago they requested a speed limit of 70 miles per hour through our city.

I have tried to gather some statistics for this letter but it appears that most of the records were sent to Austin, Texas. Medina County Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder did name 7 people killed by trains in Hondo in the past 5 years. Several others were seriously injured and there have been other accidents with no personal injury but with property damage and loss.

In view of the death of some, serious injury to others, and real and personal property damage to still others, I feel the cost of such a program would be minimal in comparison and the need is now.

An alternate suggestion might be for the railroads to join the trend of major highways and have all through traffic loop the cities and towns.

My interest in this derives from being a Councilman and humanitarian and it probably shows that I am not an engineer. Perhaps a good engineering firm could take these suggestions, improve on them, and put them to good use regarding public safety. I am sure you are familiar with the pressure along with fines being applied to industry for even minor infractions of a very rigid Federal Safety and Health Law.

I would appreciate your thoughts on the feasibility of such a program.

Sincerely,
Andy Patterson

The Size of Education

Three of every ten Americans—a total of over 63.5 million people—are occupied in education. This includes 60.2 million students, 3 million teachers, and about 200,000 principals and other staff.

Expense for all levels of education this year will exceed $85 billion—about 8 percent of Gross National Product (GNP). The percentage of the nation's wealth devoted to education has grown steadily in recent years from a low of 1.8 percent of the GNP in 1943-44.

This year 3.1 million students will graduate from high school, 900,000 will get bachelor's degrees, 224,000 will receive master's degrees, and 34,600 will get doctor's degrees.

On a percentage basis, about 78 percent of U.S. young people complete high school, 25.2 percent graduate from college, and 9.3 percent receive advanced degrees.

These are impressive figures illustrating one of America's great strengths—its tremendous schooling system, the most democratic and the most effective in the world today.

What Is a First Grader?

A recent issue of the San Antonio Light carried a delightful two-page picture story titled "A day in the Life of a First Grader."

Photographs by Jean Osborne showed youngsters of Clear Spring Elementary School in many poses, activities, and moods. The text that accompanied the pictures was worth repeating. It went like this:

What is a first grader?

It's a girl with a sunny face and a dress so clean it crinkles at the touch.

It's a boy with big eyes and shoes so shiny you can see your face in them.

It's a world. It's an attitude.

It's a pencil sharpener to discover and marvel at.

It's a desk to peek in, where the secret, dark nooks hold all kinds of mysteries.

It's listening. To voices, sounds, words.

It's looking. At blackboards, pictures, teachers and each other.

It's thinking. Of yesterday's mistakes, today's corrections, tomorrow's promise.

It's wondering. Over the beauty of books, the magic of crayons, the shape of letters, the size of numbers.

It's experiencing. The hours together, teamwork, cooperation.

It's Step One on a long ladder, the time of planting the first seed.

It's an attitude. It's a world.

Public School Share of State Dollar Same as 1949-50

ONE THING to keep clear: The Edgewood court case dealt with the fact that some school districts have more tax values than others. It didn't deal with the amount of money spent for education.

It is possible that some who are not well informed on school finance might translate the federal court ruling into an opinion that the amount of school expenditures is somehow involved.

True, state expenditures for public schools have gone up over the last 20 years. But in that period school attendance has almost doubled. Costs have increased. Other state expenditures have escalated.

The result: The public school share of the state dollar has not increased in 20 years.

During that time the school share of the state dollar has fluctuated from 27.68 cents to 33.23 cents. For 1969-70, the last year comparable figures were available, public schools received 29.24 cents out of each state dollar. That's less than the 29.67 cents in 1949-50, the first Gilmer-Aikin year.

You've heard a lot about school dropouts. It's a real problem. But have you heard about school "drop-ins"?

The much-maligned Minimum Foundation Program bases aid to schools on average daily attendance (ADA), as an incentive. In 1948-49 the average daily attendance in all Texas schools was 73.8 percent of the scholastic population.

By 1968-69 the statewide ADA had steadily increased to 89.86 percent of a larger school population.

That meant money to local districts. But it meant lots more education for lots more young Texans. That's a fact that's difficult to fault.

THE TEXAS OUTLOOK

Pvt. Brown graduates

SAN DIEGO--Marine Pvt. Eugene C. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene P. Brown of Devine, graduated from basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

He is a former student of Devine High School.

There is growing concern in Washington and in Business circles because economic recovery is slow in our nation. Arthur Burns, head of the Federal Reserve System, put the worry into words on Capitol Hill recently when he told Congressmen that the economy isn't behaving the way it is supposed to.

Interest rates are down considerably. Business writers are saying that now is the time for borrowers to see their bankers, because capital will probably edge up its costs, that interest charges are about as low as they can go.

The prime rate, charge by banks to their best customers, has gone down to 4 1/2 percent from 6 percent, and the government is now borrowing money at 3 1/2 percent compared to 7 percent last year. Private borrowing, however, stays slow, and the Administration continues to withhold housing funds.

I have previously said that confidence was the key to economic recovery. People have to feel safe about building new homes, or making major purchases, and business men have to see a brightening future before they expand their stocks or their plants.

UNEMPLOYMENT STAYS UP

When the President shifted directions in his economic planning, it was forecast that jobs would increase and business would be stepped up. But unemployment stays about 6 percent, and there is reason to wonder about the statistics on jobs. People who have become discouraged and have quit hunting work are not counted in the government tabulation of unemployed.

The nation's industrial system continues to operate at about 75 percent of plant capacity, rather than to show recovery.

Many of us in the Congress will continue our efforts to get a major new public works program. We cannot buy the view of Labor Secretary James Hodgson that "unemployment is just the hole in the doughnut." I share the view of the California professor who responded that "unemployment is indeed a hole in the lives of 5,000,000 Americans who cannot find jobs."

ATTENTION TO VETERANS
It is rare for the House of Representatives to pass any legislation without a dissenting vote, but this occurred last week as we modernized the legislation providing educational training for veterans. I say "modernized" because there were two thrusts to the bill. One recognized the rising costs of education by increasing the monthly allotment from $175 to $200. The other improved federal support for apprentice training in industry, and improved coverage of wives, widows and children under the educational program.

One of the tragedies of our economic condition is that many men have returned from military service in Southeast Asia to find great difficulty in getting jobs. Statistics show that unemployment among veterans runs to 12 percent. A grateful nation can do no less than offer these men education or on-the-job apprentice training that will equip them for useful work.

CHANGE IN CALENDAR
Last week I was pleased to visit with district men who serve as officers of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. I was not surprised that they voiced unhappiness with an action of the Congress last year, in which we changed the official dates for observing several holidays. I assured them that I was already supporting legislation that would make May 30 our national Memorial Day, and Nov. 11 our Veterans Day. Tradition has its place in our heritage, so I agree with the veterans' organizations that we ought to observe the traditional days to honor our military heroes.

MAST PROGRAM EXPANDING
It is gratifying to report that the helicopter mercy service operating of Fort Sam Houston is not only to be continued, but will serve as a model for expansion to at least three other Texas areas, as well as an additional number across the country.

The Air Force and Army aero-medics get practical training when they respond to traffic and other accident calls beyond normal ground ambulance ranges, and the Fort Sam men have made an impressive record of speeding victims to hospital treatment facilities. Now the military plans similar services operating out of Ft. Hood, Ft. Bliss and Webb Air Force Base at Big Springs. I am pleased that doctors, hospital administrators, public officials and civic leaders responded to my efforts to gather evaluations of the Ft. Sam MAST service to bolster our case which resulted in the continuation and expansion of the program.

More about . . . sparks some way when Hondo was mentioned. He immediately asked him for some of the Hondo postcards. They were mailed and the following letter came back:

"My dear Father Stuebben:

"Many thanks for the postcards which you so kindly sent me.

"Is there not a Japanese motorcycle named Honda, which comes very close to Hondo?"

"Assuring you of my prayers, and wishing you every blessing, I am,

Faithfully yours in Christ
Fulton J. Sheen

Titular Archbishop of Newport"

CHAPLAIN JOSEPH H. JONES

. . . of Ellington Air Force Base in Houston recently presented the formula, which he attributed to a Kansas preacher, on "How To Be Unhappy".

On reading over these points, I find several smacking me right between the eyes. I wonder if any of them will do the same to you? Give them some thought and see.

--Make little things bother you--don't just let them, make them!

--Lose your perspective on things and keep it lost; don't put first things first.

--Get yourself a good worry--one about which you cannot do anything.

--Be a perfectionist--which means not that you work hard to do your best, but that you condemn yourself and others for not achieving perfection.

--Be right; be always right; be the only one who is always right; and be rigid in your rightness.

--Don't trust or believe people, or accept them at anything but their worst and weakest; be suspicious; insist motives are ulterior.

--Always compare yourself unfavorably to others--the guarantee of "instant misery".

--Take personally everything that happens to you.

--Don't give yourself wholeheartedly to anyone or anything.

THE HATE CAMPAIGN

. . . against law enforcement officers and the courts continue unabated throughout our country. And millions of bleeding heart do-gooders join the sad lament that we are too harsh, too severe, too cruel to those who commit crimes.

Well, the information just released by Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, will chill you to the bone if you are a "concerned citizen" worried about such things.

Col. Speir's sheet shows: 482,386 major criminal offenses were committed in Texas during 1971. This is an increase of 13,324 crimes over those committed in 1970.

The only category that decreased was thefts which dropped 11.7 percent but still stood at 243,344. Other categories read: murders 1,687 up 15.3%; rapes 3,075, up 6.6%; aggravated assaults 34,472, up 14.3%; auto thefts 48,323, up 17.1%.

A note of special concern to rural residents: some 49,752 crimes were committed in rural areas, with crime "generally up in all rural areas."

So the next time you hear someone say (or say yourself) that our law enforcement is too strong, then remember--you might be the next victim or one of those criminals so many hearts bleed for.

HONDO SIGN

. . . lovers will be glad to note (if they haven't already) that the signs at each end of the city have been repainted. They now have a blue background with white letters, and the wording has been painted with an luminous paint so they really show up at night. Now we can even catch the night riders who pass through our fair city and this part of God's Country. And we can give the City credit for getting this fine job accomplished.

DOC TAYLOR SAYS

. . . I am still hopeful that the early morning moon change of this date (To-day) - March 15, 5:35 A.M. - New Moon - we will get some moisture right on the dot. The time is opportune, crops growing, and I'm still singing my dying swan song. Let's hope.

Joe Montez convicted on charge

Joe Montez, 60, of Dallas last week was found guilty in San Antonio of aiding and abetting unlawful entry of illegal aliens and sentenced to 10 months in jail plus a $1000 fine.

Montez was arrested by Hondo policemen on February 29 and charged with transporting illegal aliens. He had four aliens with him at the time of arrest. He was turned over to the Immigration Service in San Antonio and tried there.

Mrs. Bruce Foster attends Republican meet in Austin

Mrs. Bruce T. Foster, 21 st. Senatorial District Committee chairman, attended the State Republican Executive Committee meeting in Austin March 12-13.

The Republican Committee adopted general rules for all party conventions and meetings including one that prohibits binding a convention delegate to the unit rule or instructions of a prior convention.

The Republican primary ballot will contain a forced school busing referendum. The SREC urged the calling of a special session of the state legislature to act on the Highway Beautification Bill in order to prevent the loss of $24 million in federal funds under the Federal Highway Beautification Act.

United States Senator John G. Tower appeared before the SREC and answered questions from the floor about issues and bills instead of giving a speech. Senator Tower works for strengthening U.S. military defenses and is very opposed to forced school busing.

State Representative Fred Agnich of Dallas was elected GOP National Committee member to replace Peter O'Donnell Jr. who resigned.

The Republican candidates for governor spoke on their qualifications and the need for respected state office holders which have not been provided by a one party Democrat state. This week

That's all she wrote

by Edna McDade

Martins, according to MARY (Mrs. H.H.) RENKEN, are not being very sociable this year. At least, not the ones tenanted the Renken Apartments.

When the Martin house architect, EMMETT KOLLMAN, inquired about reservations Mary told him that exactly four couples were in residence, each pair settling in different levels of the condominium and apparently not even on speaking terms with the other 3.

"It is absolutely frustrating to the sparrows which are such gregarious little busybodies that they don't even recognize social snootiness," said Mary -- or words to that effect.

When J.P. EPHRIAM of D'Hanis handed me a silver dollar after church Sunday, I suspected that he might be running for public office and buying votes.

Not so. On closer inspection, the "cart wheel" turned out to be made in Denmark where the value of our dollar found its way into bubble gum space money which Banker Ephraim is now putting into masticatory circulation.

Problem is, my partials and surviving original molars don't 'low no gum chewing no more! My dentist warned me.

SALLY BRUCKS and I were on hostess duty at the Museum Sunday afternoon. We had some delightful visitors.

Among them were the JOHN and VIRGINIA SALMONS family of S.A. and we had met on a previous visit. Their youngest daughter, KAREN who is now 7 1/2 and in the second grade, recognized me and we began right where we left off last summer. Meantime, she had learned to print beautifully and she told me that she can also "do cursive writing."

Karen's daddy is a second lieutenant and he explained that this grade was about "as low down on the totem pole of advancement as you can get!"

Maybe by the time the family returns for another visit on May 6 for our Museum Day, which they said they didn't want to miss, Lt. Salmons will be closer to a galaxy of stars on his ID patch.

By happy coincidence, we had a visit from another 2nd Lt. This from Subtle (Subteniente) -- PEDRO VASQUEZ S. Fuerza Aero Mexicana (F.A.M.) who is flight engineer on Mexico President LUIS ECHEVERRIA'S DC6 plane called "El Morrellos".

The ship is in terra firma dock at Gary Aircraft, undergoing inspection and overhaul while on leave from El Hangar Presidencial. This week, Lt. Vasquez said, the President was visiting Japan.

His private plane derives its name from that of a national hero who made history during Mexico's Independence Movement.

Among Museum (future) library items, I found a Sept. 1957 issue of TRAFFIC PATTERN which marked the golden anniversary of the US Air Force.

In it I saw a most attractive picture of JOYCE (Mrs. Tom) KUYKENDALL seated at her desk in Base Supply where she served during the Hondo Airbase days.

TOM must not have rated a picture but I did read that he was a TAI flight instructor in the days before he began instructing customers in the art of buying Western Auto supplies.

While my car was parked at the Commerce Street Market in SA Saturday (we were buying piggy banks for Museum Day fattening and slaughter) someone placed a circular on the windshield. It advertised the services of Madam B, "born with a double veil and now Counselor to Human Relations."

From here on out, insomnia problems will be my own fault for not having consulted the Great Spiritualist who offered, "If you cannot sleep for ANY reason, see Madam B today!"

One way to keep the Spirit of Christmas is not to disturb the decorations until Easter. This is what Mrs. M. J. (Elda) LORFING is doing and, when I saw the attractive display in her home, I shared her enjoyment.

It was my first visit in the Lorfin home and it was a very pleasant one with its gracious hostess.

A variation of the "Love it or leave it" signs these days recently appeared on a poster at the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Washington, D.C. It said in good old USA English: "America--Love it or give it back!" There's a moral here somewhere.

O.T. Baker to head Texas Folklife Festival

O. T. Baker, exhibits manager of the Institute of Texan Cultures at San Antonio, has been named to head the first Texas Folklife Festival, on the University of Texas Institute of Texas Cultures grounds at San Antonio.

"To the manager's post of this first statewide Texas Folklife Festival, Baker brings both experience and a lifelong interest in the real folk ways of Texas," said Institute Director R. Henderson Shuffler in making the appointment.

In 1968 Baker directed the participation of more than 150 Texans in the Festival of American Folklife at the Smithsonian Institution. By trucks, vans and planes they converged on the nation's capital to demonstrate the industry and customs from which early Texans derived their livelihood, entertainment and religious sustenance.

Baker came home convinced that Texas, with its broad-based and varied heritage, could hold as large and exciting a festival of its own, and be the first state to do so. He has spent the last four years on plans to turn this conviction into reality.

He has returned annually to the festival in Washington, D.C. and traveled the nation to important regional folk-life events. The Pennsylvania Dutch celebration at Kutztown is but one.

Similar activities in Texas have been on his agenda also: Salado's Gathering of the Scottish Clans, New Braunfels' Wurmfest, Praha's Czech conclave the Albany's Fandangle, to name a few.

Representatives of these fun-filled attractions will be invited to take part in the September festival, acquainting a wide audience with the specialized, historical entertainment to be found in local Texas communities.

Thus, Baker says, "celebrating our cultural diversity with all its music, food, costumes and customs will be the theme of the Texas Folklife Festival."

A native of Center, Texas, he attended Texas A&M University. The festival manager settled in Devine after Navy service in World War II. Community and tourist development were his chief works for 25 years. He is also a sculptor, wood carver and magazine writer. Since 1967 he has been manager of the Exhibits Department of the University of Texas Institute of Texan Cultures. Baker and his wife maintain a residence in Austin, with ranches near Liberty Hill and Boerne.

WWI veterans hold midwinter meeting

Midwinter District Meeting of Veterans of World War I and Auxiliaries was held at a local drive-in Saturday, March 11, with 85 members and three guests present.

A barbecue dinner was served at noon. Afternoon meetings began at 1 ending at 3:30. This meeting was hosted by Hondo Barracks and Auxiliary #1601.

Jim Allman develops conservation plan

Jim Allman of Devine has developed a conservation plan on his place northeast of Hondo. Plans are to improve the hunting and at the same time improve the grazing condition for his livestock. To do this, alternating strips four-hundred feet wide will be dozed and stacked. This will give a pattern of controlled brush where the better grasses will have a chance to increase, and leave some brush in which the deer can hide. Fatter deer will be harvested next fall because at least half of the water-wasting brush will be removed. This will benefit domestic livestock as well as improve the natural habitat for wildlife. The cleared area will be seeded to K, R, blue-stem to help increase the forage production and provide better nesting places for turkey and quail.

Less sediment pollution in streams and clearer water for fish and wildlife will be some of the results of a gulley-healing program that Dr. Walter Meyer has started on his place southwest of D'Hanis. A contractor is working now to remove gullies on about 20 acres. This will then be sprigged to Coastal bermudagrass which, when established, will eliminate further soil loss. Not only is this grass a good soil-holding grass, but when properly fertilized it produces good grazing for livestock.

Keith Edward Honig

Captain and Mrs. Paul Honig, 3542 S. 20th St., Abilene, announce the birth of their first child, a son, Keith Edward, on March 8, 1972. Keith Edward weighed seven pounds, nine ounces.

Welcoming the baby are grandparents Mrs. Reuben Wiemers and Mr. and Mrs. William Honig, all of Hondo, and great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Muenkink, Mr. and Mrs. John Wiemers and Mrs. Anna Wunderlich, all of Hondo, and Mrs. Minnie Honig of Harper, Texas.

Fiesta Cinco de Mayo set as Hondo event

A street fiesta will be held in Hondo on May 5. The fiesta is being planned by the Salazar Building Committee and it will be a happy Mexican-style occasion.

Much of the candy and prizes for the games party will be imported from Mexico. It is hoped to have Mariachi groups from Hondo and from San Antonio in the celebration.

Fiesta will begin at 6 p. m. and will include a big dance with music by Gilbert Rodriguez and his Orchestra. During the dance the queen of the fiesta will be crowned.

All those who wish to be candidates for queen should call Mrs. Antonio Garcia (426-3885) no later than this Saturday evening (March 18). Candidates are invited from Hondo and the neighboring towns. Each candidate will be given half of all the money she raises as a reward for participating.

Chairman for the fiesta is David Cuellar and other committee members are Mrs. Antonio Garcia, Melie Link, Celia Dominguez, Mrs. T. A. Lopez, Nelda Morin, Mary Lopez, Clay Rodriguez and Father Emmet Carolan. More details of the fiesta will be announced later.

Medina County Judge Jerome Decker proclaims the week of March 19th-25th as Campfire Week in Medina County. Watching Judge Decker are Melinda Groff, Jennifer Kempf, Joan Ledwig, Mrs. Joe Ledwig, Judge Decker, Mrs. Mary Meyer, Bernadine Kelly, and Jack Gruber. Mrs. Led-

W S C S meets

Landmark Inn described by Medina County historian

By Josie R. Finger, Medina County Historical Society

Miss Ruth Lawler of Castroville has received a notice from Truett Latimer, executive director of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, informing her that Landmark Inn, of which she is the owner, was entered in the National Register of Historic Places on January 7, 1972, and is now afforded the privilege granted under the Historical Preservation Act of 1966.

Under this Act the Secretary of the Interior expands and maintains a list of districts, sites, buildings, and objects significant in American history and culture. They are the nation's property that is worth saving.

Landmark Inn has been since 1965 a recorded Texas Historic Landmark. A beautifully preserved architectural gem, it is the constant joy of historians, photographers, and artists. As such it was one of the subjects sketched by the Baders of Hondo, Frances and son Jon, for the set of note cards sold at the Medina County Museum. (These cards are still available.)

The Texas Medallion and Plate can be seen by motorists on the street side of the Inn. The inscription on the marker gives a concise history, as follows:

"Landmark Inn. Built as a one-story home and store, about 1844, by French settler Caesar Monad. Later became Vance Inn, after top floor and bath house were added to accommodate travelers.

"Civil War bullets were made of lead lining peeled off a room of the bath house, in 1860's.

"After 1927, Jordan T. Lawler and his sister, Ruth Lawler, natives of New Orleans, La., owned and restored Inn."

Incidentally, the elegant French furniture brought by the Lawlers from Louisiana blends and harmonizes with the interior of the inn.

Onis Wiemers on honor roll

AUSTIN--More than 160 University of Texas students were named to the College of Pharmacy honor roll at the end of the fall semester.

Among the UT College of Pharmacy honor roll from Hondo was Onis Corwin Wiemers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Wiemers of 1106 30th Street.

Students qualifying for the honor roll accumulated a total of at least 36 grade points (B average) for the semester. Total grade points are calculated by multiplying the number of semester hours undertaken by the value of each grade. (A equals 4 points.)

Camp Fire Girls plan big birthday week

Members of the Medina County Council Camp Fire girls are joining with Camp Fire girls from throughout the nation next week (March 19-25) to celebrate Camp Fire's 62nd birthday.

The Medina County Camp Fire units will celebrate with special programs within the individual groups. In Medina County there are eight Camp Fire groups with girls ranging in age from six through high school.

Castroville has two Blue Bird groups and a first year Camp Fire group while Hondo has two Blue Bird groups, two Camp Fire groups and a junior high school group.

Castroville leaders are Mrs. Joe Ludwig and Mrs. John Holden, first year Blue Birds; Mrs. Francis Lutz and Mrs.

Charles Haby, second year Blue Birds; and Mrs. David Bippert and Mrs. Joseph Riou, first year Camp Fire.

Blue Bird leaders in Hondo are Mrs. Melvin Dittmar Mrs. Milton Poehler and Mrs. William Grell. Camp Fire leaders are Mrs. Jim Amberson, Mrs. Homer Weimer, Mrs. Iris Bader and Mrs. Alvin Lange. Mrs. Bruce Foster and Mrs. James Fridle are junior high school leaders in Hondo.

For these leaders and their Camp Fire girls birthday week is a very special week because it calls for future action as much as a pleasurable remembrance of the organization's beginnings. Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, who founded the organization in 1910 wrote its purpose "ought not to be based on numbers, but upon something that is way down deep in the very nature of human individuals and the nature of human society.

This does not mean all is seriousness at Camp Fire. Camp Fire is an adaptable and flexible program for girls who want to do things from play to camping and from service to fellowship.

Local Medina County Camp Fire officers are: Mrs. High Meyer, President; Jack Gruber, first vice-president; Mrs. Bruno Schweers, Secretary; Mrs. Ray Mumme, Treasurer; Mrs. Glen Duncan, Registrar; Mrs. James Fridle, Group Organizer; Bob McGarity, Camp Chairman; Mrs. Laura Steubing, Chairman of the Nominating Committee; and Jim Fridle, Chairman of the Finance and Community Relations Committees.

One killed in D'Hanis accident

One man was killed and another injured late Friday night in a car-pedestrian accident just west of D'Hanis.

Cruz Reyes, 46, of Sabinal was pronounced dead at the scene after being struck by a car as he attempted to cross Highway 90. Lewis Grado, 35, also of Sabinal suffered injuries.

Investigating officers said the two attempted to cross the highway in front of a big van heading west and three test cars heading east. The van swerved and missed them as did the first test car. But the second car, driven by Guy Fuller could not avoid hitting them.

The injured man was taken by helicopter to San Antonio. Highway Patrolman J. D. Bailey investigated the accident which happened about 12:15 a. m. Saturday morning.

Cows give birds directions

Two porpoise-looking C-130 Hercules aircraft of the 433rd Tactical Airlift Wing (Reserve) sit on the ramp at Howard AFB, Panama Canal Zone.

These are the same planes that fly the low-level missions described in the accompanying story. They are also the same planes local residents see over Hondo Airbase almost daily dropping cargo. This photograph was taken by Publisher Burnis Lawrence on a recent trip to Panama with the unit as Information Officer.

Alamo Wing navigators claim cows help give directions in low-level flights in area

KELLY AFB--South Texas Cattle don't read slide rules or sophisticated electronic equipment, but they can still show 433rd Tactical Airlift Wing (Reserve) navigators a thing or two about position on low level flights.

Or at least that's what Alamo Wing navigators admitted when they said they check their positions on low level flights by watching cattle. The way they describe this bovine navigational assist while flying at 500 feet over a planned South Texas route is:

"Our planes have flown these routes so many times that the cattle are used to us. If a herd starts to run, we know we're off course."

When a route is changed, which is being done now in an area north and west of San Antonio, the cattle get spooked at first. "But after a while, the cattle ignore us," says one navigator. "So that's why we brief our new men going out that if they see cattle move they're off course."

Alamo Wing crewmen, in their C-130B Hercules aircraft, are now flying two routes. The northern route includes: from Kelly AFB to Canyon Lake, to Fredericksburg, to Junction, to Rocksprings, to Uvalde and back to Kelly.

On the southern route crewmen go west from Kelly to Uvalde, to Carrizo Springs, to Catarina, to Cotulla, to Tilden, to Pleasanton, southeast to Pearsall, to Sabinal and back to Kelly.

And to top the moving story, navigators say the cattle are also helpful as cud-chewing wind vane. "If anytime you don't have trees or lakes to point to the wind," the same navigator says, "we take a good look at the cattle. They don't want any wind blowing in their ears."

Since they fly low level routes, 433rd TAWg aircraft are below the minimum altitude needed for the function of GCI and FAA radar systems. Therefore, navigators use dead reckoning along with precision map reading to determine their position. That is, they take the wind, course and air speed to compute the ground speed and drift, checking this against an accurate map.

"So even with a million dollars worth of equipment," this navigator imparts, "knowing the cattle stand with their backs to the wind is a helpful item of information."

Alamo Wing crew members for years have been flying low level routes in South Texas as an essential part of their combat training. This training is preparation to avoid enemy radar defense, enabling aircraft to arrive at objective points with an element of surprise.

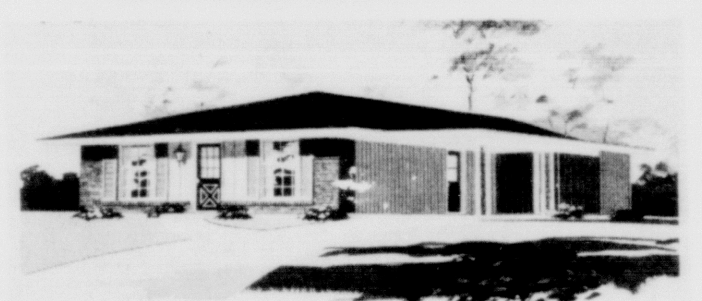

Such tactics are essential in combat operations for air delivery of troops and supplies. In combat, aircraft fly at tree-top level, but for training no flight goes below 500 feet.

"And when we achieve our top proficiency," the navigator readily admits, "we can truthfully give some credit to them for you - by phone, or

Hondo Eagles slate home game

The Hondo Eagle baseball team makes its debut this coming Sunday, March 19, in an exhibition game against the powerful Garza Finance team, last year's finalist in the state amateur playoffs.

Simon Arcos and Sonny Schmidt again are at the helm, as the Eagles will be competing in the Hill Country League. New entries into the league are two teams from New Braunfels and one from Castroville.

The Eagles will tangle with Garza Finance Pruneda Park at 3 p.m. Sunday, and one mound ace who will return for the game will be Hondo's

David Beard.

The members of Pruneda American Legion Post 524 are going all out to make sure all concession stands are ready to handle the crowd expected to view this early season game.

Owls drop close one to Coyotes

Hondo's Owl baseball team, smarting from a close 4-3 defeat in Uvalde Friday, might get another chance at the Coyotes this weekend when they enter the 18th Annual Uvalde Invitational Baseball Tournament Thursday (today) through Saturday.

Last Friday the Owls traveled to Uvalde and dropped a close one 4-3 to the Coyotes.

Hondo jumped to a 3-0 lead in the top of the third on an error, two walks and a single.

Rightfielder Vincent Arcos reached first on a deep shot to short whose throw was dropped by the first baseman. Then Coyote pitcher Steve Stoy walked Tom Hill and James Prescott loading the bases.

Eric Grant promptly lined a single up the middle to score Arcos and Hill. Prescott scored later on a Coyote error.

Stoy again loaded the bases on walks, but Hondo bats failed to boom and the rally was stifled.

Uvalde scored two runs in the third and two in the fourth with the winning runs being brought about by Owl errors.

Hondo collected one hit, while the Coyotes were belting out five.

Activities of Iota Upsilon

The Iota Upsilon chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha had several special activities.

In February an informal coffee was held in the home of Mrs. Fred Bader for members.

On Tuesday, February 8, Mrs. Bill White was hostess to the group for the educational meeting. The program was presented by Mrs. Marcellus Garrison and Mrs. R. Vance Glenn. The topic "Your Thing" was presented in a most interesting manner and a record of Dr. Maury Banks pertaining to this subject was heard. Mrs. Hilmer Mueller, president, presided at the business meeting.

On Saturday, March 4, the group with their husbands as guests, enjoyed a coon hunt at the Garrison ranch. The social committee was in charge of the event.

The March educational meeting was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Vance Glenn, with Mrs. B. P. Strunk as co-hostess. The program was in charge by Mrs. R. V. Stanga and Tommy Hollmig. Burnis Lawrence, editor of the Hondo Anvil Herald, was guest speaker. The program topic "Don't Make Waves" was handled in such a manner that the members were made aware of the necessity of "Making Waves" in all the facets of our lives - the complacency which we accept the old ways rather than to advance new ideas and accept the "Now" is a serious matter.

An interesting discussion period followed Mr. Lawrence's remarks. Mrs. Hilmer Mueller presided over the business meeting at which time Mrs. Tommy Hollmig presented the slate of officers for the coming year. The group also agreed to sponsor the "Side Walk Cafe" again this year Museum Day which will be held on Saturday, Mary 6.

Here in Hondo

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Gaston returned Wednesday from Fort. Worth. Mrs. Gaston's brother, C. H. Sargent who was injured in a traffic accident last month has been moved to a Brownwood hospital where he is recuperating.

Social Security

Roy L. Swift, manager of the San Antonio social security office, announced today that some disabled people in this area are unduly delaying payment on their claims, and even losing money by failing to contact the social security office soon after their disability begins.

Although there is a 6-month waiting period for which no benefits can be paid, the disabled should file a claim early.

Swift said that in many cases all work on the claim can be accomplished before the end of the waiting period and a check can be received for the first month payment is possible.

If the disabled person is unable to call at the office in person, his claim can usually be handled by telephone, or a relative can help by visiting the nearest social security representative.

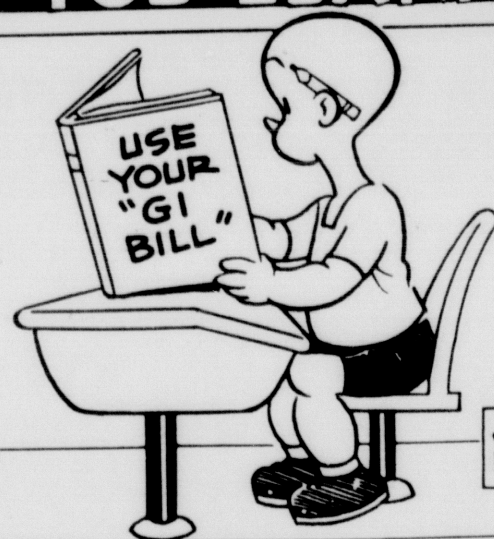

The manager pointed out that it is not unusual for some people to wait several years after the beginning of a serious illness or accident to contact the social security office. Because social security benefits can be paid retroactively for only 12 months, these people may lose hundreds of dollars. Swift stressed that accurate information about the disability program can best be obtained from a social security representative. Because of frequent changes in the laws, information provided by well meaning friends or relatives may prove to be incorrect and cause unnecessary delay or loss of payment.

Your representative will be in Hondo at the Council Chamber, City Hall at 8:45 a.m. on Monday.

Questions & Answers

QUESTION: The term "teleservice" is frequently used in radio and television announcements regarding social security. Would you please explain what is meant by "teleservice"?

ANSWER: Most any social security business can be taken care of by telephone including applications. Any necessary forms can be mailed by social security to an individual for signatures and then returned by mail. The agency used the term "teleservice" to help the public know their social security business can be taken care of by telephone.
